Crime Up; Registry System Set Up

An increase in crime has caused the Lancaster County Sheriff's office to set up a personal property registry file to aid in the return of stolen property to owners.

County residents, Sheriff Merle Karnopp said, will be urged to register with him the serial numbers of farm machinery, guns, jewelry, watches, and other items.

"I have been thinking about it for a long time," he said, "and decided to set it up because of the 'upswing in the number of thefts and burglaries.'"

The increase in the number of safe jobs, both in the county and the state, was given as the main reason for the new plan.

"We have had four safe jobs (three in the city and one in the county) in the past week," Karnopp said, "and the number in the past six months is greater than I can remember for several years."

He said that some owners reporting missing or stolen property cannot furnish positive identification. Items not having a number, he said, can be described in detail.

The registering is voluntary, he said. He encouraged all who do not register property with him to "make a record of it so identification can be made if it is missing."

Auditorium Site Settled: Jeary Aims For Special City Election

With the auditorium site question settled by the Supreme Court, Mayor Clark Jeary is aiming now at a special city election the end of May or early in June to submit a host of charter amendments to the voters.

In a Friday ruling, the court ordered the city could not hold a further election on the auditorium and must proceed to build the structure at 15th and N. As a matter of formality, Jeary plans to ask for a re-hearing but intends in the meantime to push ahead with the auditorium plans.

The city, at its last budget sessions, provided $6,000 for a special election but the event has been held up in view of a possible vote on the auditorium. A list of the major programs to go on the May or June ballot:

1. The issuance of general obligation bonds, probably in the neighborhood of $2 million, to finance the completion of the city's storm sewer program.
2. Fluoridation of the city's water supply.
3. An amendment to the city's charter to lower the interest rate charged by the city against unpaid balance of special assessments for sewer, water and paving districts.
4. An amendment to the city's charter raising the existing $500 limit on purchases that can be made without advertising for bids.
5. An amendment to the city's charter to give the city authority to enter upon private property to cut out obstructions to clear view of all street intersections.
6. An amendment to the city's charter to permit the

Pilotless Jet Herded Out To Sea

Possible Crash Is Averted By Spunky Flier In Another Ship

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—A runaway pilotless jet plane headed for San Diego and a possible crash was herded back to sea by the pilot of another Navy jet in what was believed an unprecedented maneuver.

The F9F6 Cougar jet became a runaway when it surprisingly flew out of a spin after the pilot, Lt. (jg) J. R. MacCoun, 23, Dutch Flat, Calif., had bailed out.

Lt. (jg) C. W. Vandenberg, 25, Ripon, Calif., flying at 300 miles an hour, then brought his Cougar jet close enough so that its wing tip was under the wing of the runaway.

He experimented for 12 minutes, flying under one wing and then the other, and found that he could force the pilotless plane to turn away from him.

Swings It Around

Then he swung it around 180 degrees until it headed for open sea and finally crashed.

MacCoun, who was rescued from the sea by helicopter which lowered a rope to him, said his jet went into a spin from 22,000 feet about 80 miles from San Diego. At 9,000 feet, he was ejected by the bailing-out device.

His jet, meanwhile, for some reason that Navy aviators said was unexplainable, righted itself at 4,000 feet, climbed to 8,000 feet, leveled out and headed for land.

France To Get More Bombers

Indo-China Defense Supplies Increased

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States announced Friday it would send 25 more B-26 fighter-bombers, together with ammunition and other defense supplies, to Indo-China to bolster French union forces now holding off a powerful Communist offensive.

The planes will be loaned temporarily to French Air Force units to help maintain a round-the-clock aerial bombardment on Red divisions threatening the vital stronghold of Dien Bien Phu in northwest Indo-China.

The Defense Department disclosed the supply reinforcement plan as Gen. Paul Ely, chairman of the French Joint Chiefs of Staff, wound up a six-day visit with top military leaders here.

The emergency move reflected the American government's determination to prevent a Communist victory at Dien Bien Phu and consequent strengthening of Russia's and Communist China's bargaining position at the April 26 Korea and Indo-China peace conference in Geneva.

French to Fly Them In Battle

Adm. Arthur Radford, chairman of the American Joint Chiefs of Staff, in saying farewell to Ely at the military airport here, expressed hope the new American supplies will "help in these crucial times."

The additional B-26s, officials said, will be flown by American crews to Indo-China, but will be manned in battle by French pilots and crewmen who are reported already on the scene.

The planes will back up 22 B-26s and C-119 transports, some of which are piloted by volunteer American civilian fliers.

Seven Killed, Six Injured In Hotel Fire

CROOKSTON, Minn. (AP)—Fire flashed through the old Northwood Inn Friday, bringing death to at least seven persons and injuring six.

One more was presumed dead, although the body had not been found Friday night. Thirty-eight guests were registered.

The 73-year-old, three-story structure was all but leveled. Part of one wall of the building, formerly known as the Commercial Hotel, was all that was left standing.

Mrs. Adelaide Hamre, co-owner, said the building was worth about $50,000.

A general alarm put into action Crookston's five fire fighting units and 22 regular firemen, plus volunteers. A unit and five firemen from Grand Forks, N.D., 24 miles northwest of here, also helped.

Car Crashes, Sails, Flips; Driver Unhurt

A car driven by Howard Lovelace, 48, of 1333 No. 29th, Friday night collided with a parked car and then sailed through the air, flipped over at least once and rolled onto the front yard of a residence, 110 feet from the collision.

He was apparently unhurt in the mishap.

A witness, Mrs. Charles Stewart of 2109 No. 27th, said she heard the crash and looked out the door and saw the car sailing through the air.

The owner of the damaged car, Kenneth Hardt of 2042 No. 27th, said the car landed on a 15-foot cedar tree and tore up his son.

The Lovelace car was dented in on top and received considerable damage to the right side. The owner of the parked car is Bernice Knox of 945 So. 27th.

Plate Basin: Levels Not Changed By Water Use

Local Ground Supply Not Depleted, Says U.S. Geological Survey

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Geological Survey reports there is no evidence that use of ground water in the Prairie Creek unit in the Lower Platte River Basin in Nebraska has depleted the local ground water supply.

It said the net change in ground water levels between 1946 and 1950 "was insignificant."

The survey said that although ground water is used extensively for irrigation there the amount pumped does not exceed the quantity the water-bearing formation can yield on a sustained basis.

"How much greater use of ground water could be made without depleting the supply is not known," the survey said. "A succession of dry years with consequent increased pumping for irrigation probably would cause a significant lowering of the water table, but the rate of decline probably would gradually decrease as the natural discharge would be reduced."

The unit has an area of about 650 square miles. It is bounded on the north by the Loup River, on the southeast by the Platte River and on the west by the Merrick County line.

Shot Three Times, Allen Gl Is 'Poor'

SIoux City, Ia. (AP)—The condition of Charles F. Hanson, 22, Allen, Neb., one of two servicemen shot Tuesday at a hotel here, was described as "poor" at St. Joseph's Hospital Friday.

Hanson, a soldier, was shot at least three times and suffered a severe spinal injury. Wayne D. Williams, 24, Sioux City sailor, who was shot in the abdomen, was described as continued fair.

Mrs. Gloria Brenzo, 35, operator of the hotel, and Mrs. L. Vena Walsh, 44, who lives in the hotel, have been subpoenaed to appear before the May grand jury.

Mrs. Brenzo has told police she fired when the two men tried to break into her room. Because of their conditions police have been unable to question the two servicemen concerning the shootings.

Spring Weekend Will Be Wintry

The state's first week of spring will end with a most un-springy burst of cold weather.

The forecaster says that it will turn much colder Saturday with occasional light snow beginning in the northwest Saturday morning and will spread until it covers the state by night.

The trend will continue Sunday, the Weather Bureau said, with cloudy and cold prevailing. Saturday's highs will range from 30 in the northwest to 50 in the southeast, it was predicted.

'BIOLOGICAL BARRIER' MAKES WOODPECKERS, CARDINALS STAY CLEAR OF WESTERN NEBRASKA

OMAHA (AP)—Why are cardinals and woodpeckers, common birds in Eastern Nebraska, seldom seen in the Western part of the state?

The answer came from scientists attending a meeting of the North Central Branch of the Entomological Society of America.

They say a "biological barrier" beyond which certain plants and animals cannot pass is involved.

In the case of cardinals and woodpeckers, the barrier is an invisible dividing line which roughly coincides with the 100th Meridian running from the Central Dakotas south through Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas.

Dr. L. W. Quate, assistant professor of entomology at the University of Nebraska, said that besides certain birds, many trees—such as American and shagbark elm, hackberry, eastern cottonwood and burr oak—also are restricted to area east of the 100th Meridian.

Cumate is the big reason for the barrier, said Dr. Charles Michener, head of the Entomology Department at the University of Kansas.

The belt extending from Central America west to the Rocky Mountains is a relatively dry area mainly because the mountains halt moisture coming east from the Pacific Ocean.

Thus, Dr. Michener said in the arid belt, grass is short and shrubbery and trees "to support certain kinds of animals and birds are missing."

The cardinal, he added, has stayed in the more heavily wooded part because in the drier areas he wouldn't have any place to hide from hawks and other natural enemies.

Party's Boss Is Critical

'Senator's Done More Harm Than Good'

OMAHA (AP)—GOP National Chairman Leonard W. Hall said Friday night that the tussle of Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) with the Army has hurt.

He then put down the prime 1954 campaign issues as the economic well being of the nation and the "never ending" battle with Communism.

"The dispute has hurt. Any dispute hurts," he said in an interview.

"McCarthy has done more harm than good," Hall added. "His Senate effectiveness has diminished in the past few weeks."

Hall picked the ton campaign issues in an address Friday night to 265 persons attending a Republican dinner and advised his listeners that the key to victory for his party is getting out the vote.

He spoke before a dinner for the Midwest and Rocky Mountain Republican State Chairmen's Assn. meeting Friday and Saturday and their guests.

"On the first score," — the economic well-being of the nation — Hall said, "I believe the Eisenhower administration program, now moving through Congress is designed to keep us sound economically by building more industry, more jobs and a healthy agriculture."

Referring to "the never ending battle against Communism both at home and on the global front," Hall said:

"We have at long last developed a truly American foreign policy which meets the overseas Communist threat head-on and lays the responsibility where it belongs — in the laps of the Russians. Meanwhile at home we have both the willingness and the know-how for dealing with Communist inspired subversions."

Five Reasons

In his address, Hall gave five reasons for saying the Republicans "cannot only hold our present margin in the House but give the President a useful extra majority in the Senate as well."

He listed these as:

1. "The Eisenhower program, based on welfare of all Americans, is a sound program."
2. "It doesn't hoodwink the people with trickily-gimmicked packages of political goodies."
3. "It is a program that we and our children and their children can afford."
4. "It is designed to carry the nation farther than just to the next election."
5. "It has courage and decency."

Thief Tosses Rock Through Window, Runs

A two-pound rock was thrown through the front window of the Bartu Jewelry Store at 1020 O. Friday night and a man was observed reaching inside and then fleeing.

The event was witnessed by Bill Sexton, 14, of 500 West R, who was standing at 10th and O. He said he saw a person reach in and get something and then dart up an alley to the east of the store.

The window was estimated to be worth $30 and police reported finding an empty watch box on the sidewalk in front of the store.

The owner, Milo W. Bartu of 826 So. 31st, has not yet given an estimate of the loss, police said.

Young Sexton described the man he saw break in as a Negro dressed in a brown jacket and blue jeans.

Court Decision Should Speed City-County Building Plans

'Spot Close By 15th, N Wanted'

The Supreme Court ruling ordering the city to construct its proposed auditorium at 15th and N should greatly speed up planning for a new city-county building, according to Dr. John P. Senning, chairman of the joint City-County Building Committee.

"The court action," said Dr. Senning, "clears the air for us in regard to a site. Before this, there has been considerable doubt as to what we could do and could not do."

Dr. Senning, who had expressed earlier hope that the 15th and N site could be used for a city-county building if rejected for the auditorium, said his committee would probably "look for a spot close by."

Population trends put the city's business center on the 15th street "axis" between the State Historical Society building and the Statehouse, he said.

Dr. Senning indicated the committee's present thinking was that city-county building should be located near 15th.

The County Courthouse location is an improbable site because of remoteness from the city's center, he explained.

He indicated that the needed "city block" could possibly be acquired from "the areas of older residences" near the 15th street vicinity.

County Commissioner Chas. Kuhn and Russell Brehm commented that the use of the present Courthouse location for the city-county building would save $100,000 which would be needed to acquire another site, but said "final selection of a site should be left to the voters."

Kuhn said he was "not surprised" by the auditorium case decision. "Common sense would have told anyone the auditorium would have to be built at 15th and N, but I'm wondering what will hold it up next."

Brehm said he hopes "the auditorium will now be built."

Chores Laid Out
The Building Committee, said Dr. Senning, now has its chores laid out before it. Statistical studies must be made first, he said, to determine the exact floor space needed in the new building.

These studies will be made from reports Dr. Senning has already obtained from all city and county departments relative to the space they now have and their present and future requirements.

Following the space determination, he said, the method of financing the building must be settled. This, he said, could take one of two forms—general obligation bonds or revenue bonds.

Any building plans, said Dr. Senning, must necessarily take into account a closer co-operation and co-ordination between similar city and county operations. It would be desirable, he said, for like city and county offices to use joint facilities.

The two legal departments, for instance, could be located next to each other, he said, with their

News Around The Globe

Red China, Germany Join 'A' Race

By International News Service

The atom and its mighty offshoot, the hydrogen bomb, is making news throughout the globe.

Red China and East Germany both were reported in the East-West race for atomic supremacy while Belgium, a staunch NATO ally, will soon have an atomic pile of its own thanks to U. S. and British aid.

Communist New China News Agency reported said that Red Vice Premier Kuo Mojo has announced China's entry into nuclear research, presumably with Russian assistance.

Mojo said, according to the agency, that the Chinese Academy of Sciences has proposed an invitation to Russia to send a delegation of scientists to China for the promotion of "still closer" atomic cooperation between the two states.

TOKYO (Saturday) (AP)—A second atom-dusted Japanese fishing boat returned to port and was immediately quarantined, Japanese newspapers reported today. The ship was operating about 780 miles from the explosion site March 1, the captain reported.

The ship returned amid preparations by the Japanese government to present the United States with a bill for damages to 25 fishermen of the "Lucky Dragon." Japan also urged a ban on future such explosions.

Election Asked

NEW YORK (AP)—A National Labor Relations Board examiner recommended a brand new bargaining election on New York's strife-torn, strike-ridden waterfront.

Examiner Arthur Left accused the striking International Longshoremen's Assn. (ILA) of fomenting violence and knifings at the polling places in an election last December between the ILA and an AFL dock union. Left recommended the election results—which gave the ILA an apparent victory—be thrown out and a new election held as soon as possible.

library between them for joint use. Other departments, such as engineering, treasurer and tax, he said, may be similarly arranged.

The committee, said Senning, has expectations of making its report and recommendations the middle of this summer.

H-Blast Movie To Be Shown

Atomic Work Funds For Next Year Hiked By House Committee

WASHINGTON (AP)—The American people will get their first look April 7 at a hitherto secret movie of a hydrogen explosion. They may see a mile-wide island disappear in a glaring ball of fire and a cloud of debris mushrooming twice as high as those produced by the "old-fashioned" A-bomb.

President Eisenhower has authorized the release of a 28-minute motion picture of the blast set off in the Pacific in November, 1952, when this country's scientists began major firing tests of H-bomb weapons.

No official description of this explosion has been released so far, but letters sent home by some of the men in the task force at that time told of the disintegration of the island and of the huge cloud column.

More Than a Billion
Meantime, the House Appropriations Committee approved a fund of $1,189,000,000 for the Atomic Energy Commission for the next fiscal year. This will finance the drive for more and more powerful hydrogen and atomic weapons, plus the program to adapt atomic power to peaceful purposes.

The sum is $132,179,000 greater than the AEC appropriations for the present fiscal year, ending June 30, 1954, but is $152,039,000 less than the AEC had originally asked. Rep. Phillips (R-Calif.) explained that the AEC had withdrawn requests for $238,000,000 for construction because it found it would have sufficient money on hand for that work.

As for defense against atomic attack, well-informed senators disclosed the United States is depending a great deal on the swift, mass evacuation of cities and on improved guided missiles which can seek out enemies in the sky at speeds reaching 1,500 miles an hour.

He reported this after the Senate Armed Services Committee was given a secret briefing on the latest plans for continental defense.

A series of "still" photographs taken from the movie are being released to newspapers and magazines for use at the same time the film is shown.

City Will Proceed With Plans

By BILL DOBBER

Star City Hall Reporter

While the city will file a motion for a rehearing of the Supreme Court opinion in the auditorium case handed down Friday, plans will also move ahead for a start as soon as possible on erecting the structure at 15th and N.

In deciding the 13-year-old issue, the high court ordered an injunction against the city from holding any further election on the auditorium question and directed the city "to proceed with reasonable promptness, the circumstances properly considered, with the construction and erection of a building for auditorium purposes as authorized and directed by existing charter amendments on that subject, on the site which has been purchased and acquired for that purpose."

"The city," reported Mayor Clark Jeary, "will file a motion for a rehearing of the case, purely to obtain complete adjudication of the case. As far as I am concerned, the matter is settled and the city should proceed along lines ordered by the court."

The mayor expressed high hopes that, with some cutting of extras or frills, the auditorium could be built as originally planned with the funds on hand. Besides a cut in costs from eliminating extras, he said, there is now an advantageous labor market which may bring the city some good bids.

The Associated Auditorium Architects and the city's engineering department, said Jeary, will be called together as soon as possible to look over plans as they now exist, determine where cuts can be made and prepare a new estimate of cost.

The city now has a total of $2,506,739 in three auditorium building funds. There is $974,739 in outstanding bonds, $1.5 million in authorized, but unissued bonds and $32,000 in the auditorium site purchasing lot fund.

Push Previous Plan
In the event the funds are not adequate to building as originally planned, Jeary said he would favor, as he pushed once before, construction of the main theater and a full basement, leaving out the sports arena to the east.

The theater part of the original building has a seating capacity of 1,902 persons. The arena has a permanent seating capacity of 3,044 with the addition of another 2,500 movable seats possible according to the activity being presented.

A stage show, for instance, could utilize the entire 5,544 seating capacity while an event which utilized most of the main floor space such as basketball, roller skating, etc., would sacrifice most of the movable seating space.

The existing auditorium site, purchased by the city in 1940 for $46,750, is a square block of ground bounded by 15th and 16th from M to N. The property is currently leased on a year to year basis as a parking lot with Attorney Charney Barney the present lessee with a rental of $700 a month.

Further court action on the auditorium question appeared doubtful from other possible sources. Charles Sutherland, leader of a recent petition drive for abandonment of the existing auditorium provisions and a party on the city's side in the past Supreme Court action, reported he is "willing to abide by the court's ruling."

Attorney George Healey, who handled the case against the city for the plaintiffs, Myron D. Noble, et al, stated simply: "This is the second expression by the Supreme Court indicating rather unequivocally that the auditorium should be built at 15th and N without additional delay or resort to further voting."

Besides Noble, other plaintiffs in the auditorium action were Charles S. Elise, James R. Reed, John K. Selleck, Dr. Charles H. Arnold and Arthur A. Dobson.

Sorensen Tells Of Arab Misery

There is an armistice in the Near East but no peace.

That is the opinion of an ex-Lincolnite who just returned from that area. Tom Sorensen, a United States Information Agency officer, reported that frequent border raids between Israel and the Arab League countries have kept the Near East "in tension."

The canker sore of this part of the world is the issue of resettling more than 900,000 Arab refugees "living in intolerable conditions in refugee camps" and supported by United Nations' aid, he said.

Reds Outlawed
Sorensen is stationed in Beirut, Lebanon, a country in which the Communist Party has been outlawed since shortly after 1945.

But there is much Communist front activity in Lebanon, Sorensen said.

Sorensen's job is to provide news of the United States to the 37 dailies and 60 weekly newspapers in Beirut from daily wireless news from Washington, D. C. and translating it into Arabic, French and Armenian.

The press is generally more sympathetic to the West than the Soviet Union, he said, but is suspicious of both. However, most papers are against the U.S. policy in Palestine, Sorensen said.

He is on home leave for six weeks with his wife and two children. Then after a month in Washington, D. C., the family will return to Beirut.

Solons Plan Sex Deviation Probe

OMAHA (AP)—State Sen. Charles Tvrdek said Friday that the executive committee of the Nebraska Legislative Council has formed a committee which will hold hearings on the adequacy of present state laws involving sexual deviation, especially molestation of children.

Sen. William Moulton of Omaha is chairman and others on the committee, Tvrdek said, are George Syas, Omaha; Dr. C. E. Lillibridge, Crete; Robert McNutt, Lincoln; and Earl Lee, Fremont.

Tvrdek, speaker of the Legislature, is an ex-officio member.

Tvrdek said the committee was picked from Senators representing the more heavily-populated areas since the problem appeared to be of greatest concern in those areas.

The committee's findings will be reported to the next session of the Legislature.

TEEN-AGER WINS BACK BRIDE OF 14

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—A teenage husband won back his 14-year-old bride over her parents' angry objections when a judge ruled he had no choice but to reunite the young couple.

"They are legally married," ruled Circuit Judge Harry Adams. "I have no choice. The marriage has been consummated."

He acted on a habeas corpus petition filed by 18-year-old Thomas J. Murchison who eloped last month with pretty, dark-haired Patricia Kurrus.

Murchison charged that Patricia's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence J. Kurrus, had been holding the young bride a "prisoner" in their home ever since they learned of the marriage a month after the elopement.

Patricia took the stand and said:

She loved "Tommie," married him of her own free will, wanted to live with him, and was sure she could get along on his pay as a part-time mechanic.

Murchison beamed. Patricia smiled faintly, but was weeping as she started from the courtroom leaving her parents behind.

Russians To Return 38 Ships

WASHINGTON (AP)—Russia has agreed to turn back to the United States 38 small naval vessels loaned to the Soviets under the World War II lend-lease program.

The craft—12 motor torpedo boats and 26 submarine chasers—will be transferred to U.S. control at Istanbul, Turkey, in May and June.

They will be the first lend-lease ships returned by the Soviets since 1951. They are part of a group of 186 naval craft which the United States demanded back in September, 1948.

State Department officials said the other 148 vessels in this group are still involved in negotiation concerning time and place of return. They have been reported by the Russians to be in the Far East. Officials said they did not know whether any of these had been used on the Communist side during the Korean War.

The Soviets previously returned 27 frigates and three icebreakers in 1949 and 1951. Including the group of 186, they are estimated to have an overall total of approximately 555 lend-lease naval craft belonging to the U.S. Navy. Some of these, however, are assumed to be unseaworthy or possibly to have been destroyed.

Aside from the naval craft there are 87 lend-lease merchant vessels still in Soviet hands ranging from 4,000 up to 10,000 gross tons, department officials said. The Soviets returned nine merchant vessels after the end of World War II.

Ike Orders Stepped-Up Stockpiling

Red Attack Power On U.S. Considered

WASHINGTON (INS)—President Eisenhower ordered a stepped-up in the strategic metal stockpiling program because of Russia's increased ability to attack the U. S. and free world supply sources.

The chief executive directed the Office of Defense Mobilization to establish immediately new long-term stockpiling goals for strategic metals and minerals.

The new program, the White House said, takes into consideration the fact that "The Soviets now have the capability of attack on the United States."

The new stockpiling goals are based on the assumption that some domestic supply sources would be knocked out or crippled by an enemy attack.

The stepped-up program will also assume that, in the event of enemy attack, no foreign supply sources would be available except in a limited group of countries.

The program will help spur the domestic mining industry, segments of which have been hard-hit by a slump in government and industrial buying.

The President's action was based on a preliminary study submitted last Friday by the minerals policy committee, headed by Interior Secretary Douglas McKay, and unanimously endorsed by the cabinet.

It is estimated the new program will result in increased government purchases of from 35 to 40 metals and minerals. They will be bought wherever possible from domestic producers and purchases will be spread out over a considerable period of time.

A White House statement explaining the program said it will mean that the risk of strategic metals becoming a "bottle neck" in a national emergency will be virtually eliminated.

Joe Hears Prop Plan To Change

WASHINGTON, (UP) —Butter is piling up on the government at the rate of more than three million pounds a day in the face of an imminent drop in federal support prices, Agriculture Department officials reported.

They said processors are attempting to unload their stocks before prices under the support program are pulled down about eight cents a pound April 1. Market prices are expected to decline correspondingly.

The Agriculture Department is committed under a farm price support program to buy all the butter that is offered it through March 31 at 65.75 cents a pound, Chicago basis. On April 1, the department's buying price will be reduced to 57.5 cents at the same market.

Secretary Benson ordered support prices lowered because, he said, they had been pricing butter out of the market and piling it up in government warehouses.

Shortage Prevention

In a move to prevent a temporary shortage from developing in retail and other markets during the changeover period, the department is allowing processors and distributors to sell butter to it through March 31 at the current support price, retain possession of it, and contract to buy it back April 1 at 60.5 cents a pound in the Midwest and 61.25 cents elsewhere. Repurchase will not be permitted before April 1, however.

The same arrangement has been made for cheese, with the government paying 37 cents a pound up to next Thursday and selling it back for 35 cents.

Officials said this procedure is necessary because, otherwise, processors would sell all their butter and cheese to the government before April 1, in order to take advantage of present prices, and after April 1 there would be a severe shortage in retail markets.

Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) said Friday night he has heard the Agriculture Department may announce a last minute switch from its announced plans to drop dairy price supports from 90 per cent of parity to 75 per cent on April 1.

McCarthy said he has not discussed the reports with Secretary of Agriculture Benson. But he told reporters "some people in the (Agriculture) Department assured me" they expect the last minute change of plans.

On another score, McCarthy announced he has assigned staff aids on the Senate Investigations Subcommittee to look into what he termed some "unusual" financial aspects to the department's moves to put the lower price support levels into effect.

Mentioning the plan to buy cheese at 37 cents and sell it back at a lower price, he said that makes no sense at all—it doesn't reduce the surplus, it gives the farmer nothing.

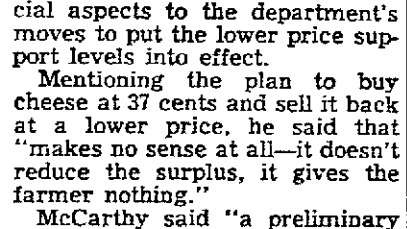

McCarthy said "a preliminary check" by the staff indicates that under the arrangement the government has "purchased" large quantities of cheese at the 37 cents a pound figure, then sold it back "an hour later" for 34 1/2 cents.

McCarthy said he has asked the department to explain how the deal works but that "I got completely garbled explanations."

Agriculture Department officials said it was true that they had entered into contracts to sell back cheese and butter at a lower price than they had bought it. But they emphasized that the persons or companies to whom the butter is being resold cannot get title to it until April 1. Thus, the officials said, the butter cannot be put on the consumer market at today's prices, but can be sold on the market at the lower prices which are expected to prevail after April 1.

VA Director Terms AMA Opposition To Non-Service Vet Aid 'Unfortunate'

The director of the Veterans Administration hospitals declared Friday he thought it unfortunate the American Medical Association opposed hospital care for veterans with non-service connected disabilities.

Vice Adm. Joel T. Boone, M.D., retired, also cleared the air of what he termed "misunderstandings" of the VA medical program.

The doctor said the rules still are the same regarding care of veterans who ask for treatment of disabilities not connected with their duties in the service. This is, he said, that if a veteran is able to pay, he will have to go to a private hospital.

Unable To Pay

But if a veteran in such circumstances declares himself unable to pay, the VA hospitals will take him in, the admiral concluded.

Dr. Boone said there is an element in the AMA "with whom I cannot agree," namely the House of Delegates of the AMA which passed the recent resolution. The admiral himself has been a member of the governing body of the AMA.

Adm. Boone said it is impossible at the time to "measure the harm to the staffing of the VA hospitals" by the AMA program. But, he added, such national issues "demand such matters be thrashed out and debated."

President Eisenhower and the administration have given the VA program its backing, he noted, and the hospital program will not be changed to meet AMA demands.

He praised the operations of the VA hospital in Lincoln, under the management of Dr. J. Melvin Boykin, who transferred here recently.

Dr. Boone is former personal physician to Presidents Warren G. Harding, Calvin Coolidge, and Herbert Hoover.

Radioactive Wand Wishart Is Linked To Paraguay Post

WASHINGTON (INS) — President Eisenhower will wave a radioactive wand in the White House to launch the American Cancer Society's fund-raising drive April 1. The President's wand will activate a switch transmitting an electrical impulse to New York which will illuminate two 50-foot crusader swords in Times Square. The swords are the symbols of the Cancer Society, which employs radioactive cobalt in cancer research.

Joseph Wishart of Lincoln may be named ambassador to Paraguay, speculation made at the regional Republican meeting in Omaha revealed.

Wishart has been the money raiser of the Nebraska GOP for many years and has worked in that field nationally in numerous campaigns, the Associated Press said.

He holds the position of state treasurer of the party now. While Wishart has rarely sought a place on the state ballot, he has been regarded in recent months as available for appointment with the national administration.

In Omaha for the GOP meeting Wishart conceded "it's mighty nice" in Paraguay and indicated he would be interested in considering the appointment should it be offered.

He said he knew only that the appointment had been discussed in Washington but he has not learned anything further.

Dust In His Eyes

Secretary of the Interior Douglas McKay in Chicago Thursday had this to contribute to the discussion of multiple-purpose dams in their vital bearing upon America's broad policy of conservation of natural resources:

"Those things should be decided on economics rather than politics."

What a laugh!

If the secretary of interior did not indulge himself in a sly smile while uttering those words, then he is hopelessly devoid of any sense of humor.

One of the questions he was discussing was Hells Canyon on the Snake River, a tributary policy, Mr. McKay was undertaking to laugh off the plain, chilling implications of his department's surrender to the Idaho Power Company. It proposes to build three less expensive, low-level dams as an alternative to the federal government's development of Hells Canyon on the Snake River, a tributary of the Columbia.

There is no proposed development in this western reclamation region of more direct relationship to the economics of a dozen states chiefly engaged in agriculture, largely contributing to the world's food supply, than Hells Canyon. It is not simply a power project. The dam planned there by the Department of Interior until Secretary McKay took over was to serve primarily as a source of electric supply for plants producing commercial fertilizer. Within 40 miles of Hells Canyon is perhaps America's greatest source of phosphates, a source of cheap commercial fertilizer so urgently needed to revitalize and to increase the fertility of the aging lands of Nebraska, Missouri, Kansas, the Dakotas, Iowa, and neighboring states which actually are this nation's chief source of food supply today.

In this state, for example, the use of commercial fertilizers has increased 20 times over what it was five years ago.

Mr. McKay wants to turn the Hells Canyon site over to the Idaho Power Company in another breathtaking, expansive give-away program. He occupies a strategic seat in the bitter fight now in the progress over Hells Canyon. In its present mood he may pull the wool over the eyes of this present Congress, but he is not pulling the wool over the eyes of a lot of people in this area.

States Rights In Reverse

Consistency is not one of the prime virtues of politics.

In America one has to expect partisanship instead. It is fundamental to the system and not unwholesome so long as a prudent citizen-ship keeps in mind that its duty is to weigh both sides of a question after hearing the partisan arguments.

This is especially illustrated by the Republican party's current tub-thumping on the subject of states rights. It is a provocative slogan, especially dear to American thought. But right now it is selling a bill of goods of questionable quality.

Certainly the principle of states rights is fundamental to the United States and when it disappears, the nation as we have known it will be no more and will not be the better for it.

But there are movements being carried forward under the cloak of states rights that are not designed to improve and magnify the states at all. Some of them, indeed, are working in reverse. They are using national sovereignty to shuck off national responsibilities. If they succeed, the states will be greatly worse off for it.

A good deal of the national budget-cutting is being carried out not for the elimination of services but with the intention of unloading essential national tasks upon the individual states which will never be able to carry them. The farm program is a good example. It is one of the federal responsibilities for economic stabilization.

No state can work in the field of national stabilization as a controlling force, any more than one state can work out a national highway system.

Reclamation is a hopeless task for individual states as is the apportioning of water rights between the states themselves.

A political party that would dump such impossible loads on states, even though it reduces national taxes, is destroying the basis of state sovereignty rather than glorifying states rights.

If these activities are essential, and both parties share in the expressions that they are, then dumping them on the states does not eliminate the bill for them. It simply hands it to a fellow who can't pay it.

There needs to be a more discerning breakdown on the states rights slogan before it brings on a breakdown of the states.

And it should not be overlooked that neither party thought up states rights. And the Republican party, especially, shows little history defending that principle. It cannot be gainsaid that the GOP in its infancy conducted a war against the South squarely on the subject of states rights and prevailed firmly against the principle. In some notable respects, it is working on the same line today.

New Candidate

A warm winter and recent showers have done their work. Lawns have begun to green up and if one looks sharply infant leaves can be seen bravely reaching out for the sunshine ready to start their life work. The politician, the aspiring candidate for office should take note. A new candidate for public interest has arrived and is going to be the lion of the hour. Any other sort of campaigning may as well get off the stage. Men can contend politically with one another, but they can't campaign successfully against spring.

Editorial Of The Day

Statistical Checkup

(From The Denver Post)

Feeling the world's pulse in terms of statistics is one of the jobs of the United Nations statistical office which has just brought out volume five, the 1953 edition of its yearbook. Here indeed is a font of facts, mostly interesting, sometimes surprising, sometimes rather shocking.

For instance, we read in this report that every urban dwelling unit in Norway has electricity. In Sweden 99.6 per cent are so equipped; in Canada, 99.3 per cent; in Western Germany, 99.1 per cent; and in the United States, 98.2 per cent. Farm homes in Western Germany lead the world with electrification of 97.9 per cent. U.S. farm homes are 85.9 per cent electrified now. Population density and the vast differences in geographical areas involved substantially explain the dissimilarities of figures, of course.

In the shock department, we learn that the infant mortality rate is lower now in Sweden, Hawaii, New Zealand, Netherlands, Australia, Norway, Iceland, England and Wales than it is in the U.S. Hawaii and England both had higher numbers of fatalities among babies less than a year old back in 1930-1934. Among 1000 children born alive in those years, Hawaii lost 76.5 before they reached their first birthdays, and the U.S. lost 60.4. But in 1952, Hawaii was only losing 21.1 out of a thousand, while the U.S. lost 28.5. The "substantial" decline of infant mortalities U.N. reports all over the world, particularly in backward areas, speaks well for civilization's progress whether we are aware of it or not. But we may well wonder why other countries seem to be outstripping us in this particular indication.

Wisconsin Governor Gets The Treatment

WASHINGTON — Wisconsin congressmen are chuckling over the way GOP Gov. Walter Kohler, like the month of March—headed for Washington raring like a lion against Agriculture Secretary Ezra Benson's farm policies, but returned to Wisconsin like the proverbial lamb.

The Kohler acrobatics were touched off by Benson announcement that government support prices on dairy products would be reduced from 90 to 75 per cent of parity. The order caused a furious reaction among Wisconsin dairy farmers and Kohler was quick to seize the headlines with a blistering attack on Benson.

The galloping governor further announced, while news bulbs popped, that he was taking a train to Washington to beard Benson in his den and demand that the parity cut be rescinded at once. Taking Kohler at his word, Wisconsin's GOP congressmen left word at his Washington hotel, urging that he meet with them the next morning to draft a joint resolution to present to Secretary Benson.

However, before Kohler hit the sack in Washington that night he had undergone a strange change of heart. Insiders suspect he may have received a phone call from Allan Kline, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation and a backstage champion of Benson's lower parity proposals.

DORIS FLEESE

Truce In Indo-China Red Threat To Asia

WASHINGTON — Outwardly the Eisenhower administration is calm, determined and optimistic with respect to Indo-China. It has still to reveal what positive ideas it has for keeping the tired French in there fighting.

Secretary of State Dulles told his press conference that French forces will win and that he sees no prospect of military reverses serious enough to upset French plans for victory. Admiral Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, who is firmly convinced that the loss of Indo-China would be a catastrophe, maintains the same public attitude.

Privately they know the situation is grim and they are seeing to it that influential members of Congress are briefed on just how grim it is. These members come away prepared to agree in theory but still unwilling to share administration responsibility for the hard choices that must be made.

No issue before the public now compares in importance with Indo-China, but all the signs are that it is late in the day for the White House to muster the support it must have from the public and Congress for positive action. Inaction and drift are almost inconceivable especially with a soldier-president at the helm since every military man has told Congress over and over and over again that Indo-China is strategically crucial, vastly more important than Korea, for which we fought a war.

Without even bothering to phone the Wisconsin congressmen, Kohler went into a huddle the next day with Farm Bureau officials. Wisconsin congressmen meantime cooled their heels for almost two hours in the office of Rep. Lawrence Smith, awaiting his excellency's call. Just before noon they gave up and headed for the Department of Agriculture without him.

As they entered the department, there was the governor of Wisconsin, looking flustered and apologetic. It was obvious that the newspaper "fight" was gone out of him and he confirmed this a few minutes later when the delegation was ushered into Benson's office. The governor, who had come to Washington to "have it out" with Benson, was docile as a lamb.

"Please do not misunderstand us," Kohler assured Secretary Benson soothingly. "We are not unfriendly to you. We understand your problems and we know that the reputable farm organizations are with you."

Others at the meeting, however, were in no mood for such amenities. When Benson remarked that he, too, once "milked cows," Congressman A. L. V. O'Konski bluntly declared:

"You have made compromises to protect the producers of corn, wheat and cotton. Why is the dairy farmer being left out?"

It is generally accepted that a truce would be the beginning of the end in Southeast Asia with incalculable consequences to India, Japan and other nations now free.

Even if the loss of Indo-China did not once strike the public generally, it would be followed inevitably by pressure to admit the Chinese Reds into the United Nations. This would pose the issue of responsibility for Indo-China in acute form here, putting and keeping it in the foreground exactly as the loss of China to the Communists has acquired a most permanent status as political controversy.

For every reason the decisions President Eisenhower must make are cruel. The Korean truce proved how sick and tired he is of blood-letting and how he would hate to let the country in for more of it. He signed it despite warnings that an Indo-China truce with the Reds and its eventual loss were a probable corollary.

The need for action comes just as the Eisenhower program, which to him seems so worthy and important aside from its political impact, is reaching the congressional calendars. Any hint of war would swamp it, of course. No one would suggest that the President would put politics ahead of his duty, yet he cannot be unmindful of the approaching elections in which his control of Congress is at stake.

ARCH DONOVAN

In Step With The Sower

No. 1 topic of conversation wherever you go in the capital is—taxes.

A surprising number are found who oppose the "trickle down" tax reduction plan of the national administration. Larger income tax exemptions are preferred by a large majority.

But Gov. Robert Crosby is keeping Arch Donovan keeping tax conscious. First it was "Operation Honesty." Now it is his proposals for changes in the state constitution.

A prominent Lincoln lawyer was eating lunch with friends at the coffee shop. Taxes were soon the topic of conversation and he detailed his personal experiences.

The Sower would hesitate to guess at his age. He is a grandfather and furniture in the home was purchased many years ago to withstand the ravages of his growing family.

He told of toiling over his assessment return and using the schedule of depreciation recommended by the tax commissioner, which in nearly every instance was 20 per cent of cost, being several times eight years old.

The lawyer came up with a total valuation of $700 which he then reduced one-half under the 50 per cent law. From this he took his exemption of $200 leaving a taxable valuation of $150.

The return while meeting established specifications bothered his conscience as much of the furniture was purchased at depression prices. He used the eraser on his pencil and increased the value on his television set to $200 although the same make and model now sells for $199.

He upped the valuations to $1,000 which made the taxable amount $800.

Being familiar with the supreme court definition of actual value as "the price a willing buyer would pay a willing seller," he still had qualms of conscience.

"I had looked in my bank book and listed the balance shown, but decided I had better increase it $200 over what I actually had," he said.

"That wouldn't hurt you much as the tax on money is the lowest of any taxable item," jibed a friend.

"I wasn't trying to be honest," the lawyer admitted. "But I want it to look good enough so that no questions are asked about it. I expect I am paying more than my share but I was afraid to do otherwise."

Sen. Ralph Hill of Hebron is expressing great interest in his chances in case he files for the Republican nomination for state treasurer. Treasurer Frank Heintze is indigible to seek reelection.

"I have found a very favorable response," Hill admitted. "But I have not received the go-ahead signal from my campaign manager. I will not file without it."

The senator then went on to explain that Mrs. Hill has always actively aided him in all of his campaigns. "She is a better politician than I am and I would not consider seeking any office unless it was with her approval and active support."

If (and the Sower finds most politicians consider it a big "if") all of the proposed constitutional amendments are submitted in November, the voter will have a decision to make on 13 changes ranging from taxes to distribution of school land funds.

Three legislative amendments are assured a place on the ballot. They relate to residency of executive officers; salaries of state officials and the Board of Educational Lands and Funds.

The governor has announced that petitions will be circulated for six changes relating to taxes. Four other petition forms have been certified including a merit plan for selecting judges, change in distribution of school land funds, permit for 18-year-olds to vote and changing the Legislature to a partisan body.

Most observers are predicting that only the merit judicial plan backed by the State Bar Association with members in every county will succeed in getting the required nearly 60,000 signatures by the July 1 deadline.

The Life Of Christ

CHAPTER XII

Yesterday's installment shows how Our Lord, in His early life, met Satan's second temptation by driving out the vendors from the Temple. Satan could not cause Jesus to jump from the pinnacle but Christ takes over His mission of purifying the Temple by making war on all hypocrites and sham. "Destroy this Temple," he said, "and in three days I will raise it up again." Properly interpreted he meant, the Temple is the place where God lives—the God-Head living in His human nature. If then they would destroy His body, on the third day He would rise again and be known and worshipped.

Though the full meaning is hidden, even from the disciples, there is still an indication that they who were driven out of the temple, had a deeper insight into His meaning than they were willing to admit. They brooded over the words, and later on, when they crucified Him as the Temple, and when He lay dead and buried in a rock tomb, they came to Pilate with the remarkable story: "Sir, we have recalled it to memory that this deceiver, while He yet lived, said, 'I am to rise again after three days.'" There was more than a passing similarity between that Temple which had destroyed itself with pollution, and the Temple of God which was now before them. Both Temples began in Bethlehem; both were destroyed and raised up again. The Chaldeans destroyed the one, and Zorobabel raised it. Mankind would not have God rule over them and destroyed the Temple that God sent. God Himself raised it. Both were consecrated to like uses; the holocaust of obedience, the offering of the body as a reasonable service to the Heavenly Father.

Supply And Demand

Omaha, Neb.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star: The articles, "World Poverty Makes Surplus" and "The Benson Plan," contributed by farmer-writer J. S. Daffer of Lebanon are on the order of sound economic theory. We readers of The Star owe a lot to our fellow Nebraskan for revealing in full light the real workings of the law of supply and demand, specifically in the field of farm commodities. Though oft mentioned, these laws have been little understood.

He was not, like so many others, satisfied with citing the doings of "Father" Supply, but ventured to relate the mischievous behavior of "Mother" Demand! We must remark that there is complexity in the plot of the play called the "Market Place." Uncle Sam often gets starring. "Grandpa" Capital and "Daughter" Luxury have important roles, too. The "in-laws" get in their interference with the sly character, Monopoly. And other country cousins are billed as Money Problems!

J. S. Daffer should be encouraged to follow up on that which he has so ably begun. We wish that his writings could be converted to permanent form so that we might always have the benefit of his well-founded and vigorous thinking. The law of supply and demand, though involved, should never have been used fancifully by those who have had self-interests to cover up. A reasonable amount of investigation into the subject clears it to our understanding.

Spiritual Values

Lincoln, Neb.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star: On behalf of the Knights of Columbus of the Lincoln area, I wish to extend our appreciation and approval of The Star's public service in publishing its serial form during the Lenten season "The Life of Christ" by Bishop Fulton Sheen.

It is gratifying to note that through these efforts, emphasis is being placed upon the spiritual values of life so necessary during these trying days of confusion and unrest. If our nation is to survive the subversive influences that beset us on all sides, it is paramount that we, the American people, return to a deep appreciation of spiritual values. The eloquent words of Bishop Sheen carry a message of great importance to Catholic and non-Catholic alike, and the contribution by this presentation through the medium of the press is to be highly commended.

'Operation Honesty'

Lincoln, Neb.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Well, the assessor has been here and I am sure she will go to the head of the class for Gov. Crosby. Comparing last year's assessment sheet with the one she made out this year, our taxes will be about three times what they were last year—and the only thing we have different is a deep freeze. Why does furniture get more valuable the older it gets?

About this "Operation Honesty"—let's go all-out, then I would like to see published everyone's name and how much his assessment is, giving the public a chance to see how much the other fellow has to pay. Then we can see just how honest this "Operation Honesty" is.

READER

Blessed Lord is proving Himself as the only man who came into this world to die. The Cross was not something that came at the end of His Life. It was something that was sealed upon Him from the very beginning. He said to them: "Destroy," and they said to Him: "Crucify." The dome of the Temple, His Head, would be crowned with thorns; the foundation of it, His Sacred Feet, would be riven with nails; His hands, His Hands, would be laid out as a Cross, and His Holy of Holies, the Heart, would be pierced with a lance. His Crucifixion would not be a punishment inflicted upon Him for antagonizing them; He implies that it is here ordained by His Father, because they have polluted His Father's house. He warns that they would reckon to destroy Him, but they would actually prepare Him only for a short test and the glorious Temple of a risen Body. Later on, St. Paul would say that every Christian is a Temple of the Living God, and such is the basis of His purity and his holiness. This would not have been possible were Christ not already the prototype Temple that was holy with the holiness of God. In the true Temple was the altar of sacrifice and the atonement for sin.

Satan tempted Him to an apparent sacrifice, by tossing Himself from the pinnacle of the Temple, which Our Lord refuses to do. But when those who had polluted His Father's House asked Him for a sign, He offers them the sign of the sacrifice on the Cross. Satan told Him to cast Himself down; Our Blessed Lord says that He will be cast down to the obloquy of death, but not because He willed to be an exhibitionist in sacrifice, but because men would demand His death. Satan, on the peak of the Temple, would tempt Him from a true sacrifice; Our Lord in the Temple, pledges Himself to a real sacrifice, but also a Resurrection.

Satan proposed exposing His Temple to possible ruin for the sake of exhibitionism, for the sake of display; Our Lord here exposes the Temple of His Body to real death for the sake of purity. Satan in the wilderness, tempted Him to be a wonder worker; in the Temple, He answers that He is a Redeemer. At Cana, He said that He was going to His hour; in the Temple, He says that that Hour of the Cross will lead to His Resurrection. His Public Life will tell the same story.

Some Makeup Looks Like A Catsup Swig

There are still some people who object to cosmetics, but it is like flying a kite in a hurricane—they've got nothing to tie to.

Cosmetics, though, are similar in some ways to atomic energy, although on a more limited scale. Improperly used, they create more havoc than a pet mouse at a ladies aid meeting. Lipstick is the worst offender.

These are thoughts which completely spoiled my evening a couple of nights ago. The reason they came to mind was that a woman we know, a very nice and charming person in most respects, was among our guests, and she is dissatisfied with her mouth, and she had tried to do something about it. I spent the whole evening restraining an impulse to take her into the kitchen and scrub her face in the sink.

The gal had completely disregarded nature and painted on the kind of lips she thought she would like to have. The only concession she had made to the original version was that the lips she had painted on were in the general vicinity of her mouth, surrounding the oral opening. For all the comfort this brought to observers, however, she might as well have placed the synthetic lips over one eyebrow.

Nature gave the lady a thin upper lip. Working carefully with the lipstick, she had sketched in a cupid's bow above this, one the area between nose and lip. The general result was that she looked like she had been drinking carelessly out of a catsup bottle.

As a mere male who is entirely ignorant of the application or expert use of lipstick or other cosmetics, I have for many years wondered why some women disregard the obvious line of their lips in applying lipstick, and smear the stuff above and below the boundary nature established. In one man's opinion—this one's—it is absurd, unsightly, untidy and serves only to call attention to a fact which might otherwise go unnoticed—that the gal's lips aren't all they might be.

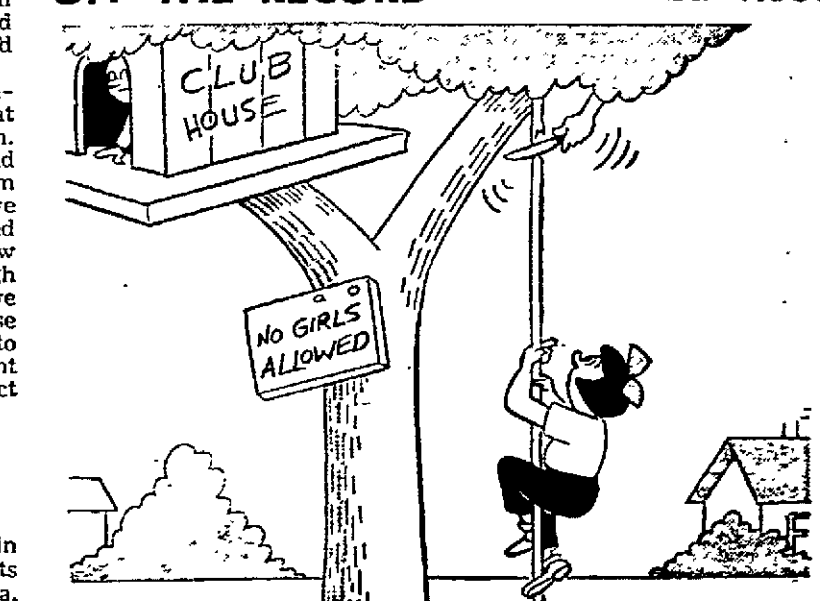

I suspect that the women who resort to this messy camouflage do so because some star of stage or screen builds up the weak spots with pigment. There is a vast difference, though, in talking with someone face to face, and watching someone else from a minimum distance of 25 feet across the footlights. Ingenious lighting on stage burns out the natural lines; sun and floor lamps are not so kind.

Cosmetics can play down features and play up good ones, but there must be other ways, besides just splashing a transparent color where even a Ubangi savage would tell you it doesn't belong. Painting lips where there aren't any is like trying to level Mt. Everest with a coat of whitewash. The chance of success is slender. I'm agin it.

Young Urges Federal Credit Plan As Storage Solution

Educational Program Is Established

Federal credit for new on-the-farm storage capacity was suggested by Parr Young, Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation state committee chairman, to Nebraska farmers who on April 30 will face the problem of what to do with 5,623,400 bushels of small grain for which storage capacity is lacking.

Young recommended the Farm Storage Facility loan program, which will lend up to 80 per cent of the cost of a storage structure at 4 per cent on a five year period, at the close of a state level meeting which set up an educational program to take the grain storage problem into Nebraska's affected counties next week.

He also noted that the loans provide for quick depreciation write-offs against income taxes.

County Groups Formed

The meeting set up county committees composed of ASC extension service and farm organization representatives and the Nebraska Grain and Feed Dealers Association to take the storage problem to the farmers. The educational campaign will be directed by the extension service.

Young gave the problem in a nutshell. He said:

"April 30 the government loan maturity date on wheat, oats, rye, barley and dry edible beans will affect 21,686,400 bushels of Nebraska grain.

"We will have available storage place for 16,068,000 bushels.

"That will leave 5,623,400 bushels for which a home will have to be found.

"The figure will get greater when the 1954 crop comes in. Meanwhile something will have to be done about the unhusked surplus that will be on hand approximately five weeks from now.

"Between 65 and 70 of Nebraska's 93 counties will have the problem. The answer largely is up to the individual farmer."

CIO Group Opposes Immediate Efforts To Broaden Tax Base

OMAHA (U)—The Nebraska CIO Industrial Union Council Friday announced its opposition to "any efforts to broaden the tax base until a solution is found for the problem of equality in property tax assessment."

It also came out in opposition to a state sales tax.

The council said it opposed Gov. Robert Crosby's "Operation Honesty" campaign for fair evaluation of personal property, but regretted the governor's recent announcement of a new tax program at a time "when the taxpayers are involved in a struggle of honesty against evasion."

The council statement, issued over the signature of James C. Harris Jr., president, said in part: "His (the governor's) No. 1 proposal for exemption of household furnishings and personal effects will, we believe contribute greatly to the defeat of operation honesty. "We believe it is wrong to take the government completely out of

Wolf Leaves $150,000 For Albion Home

ALBION, Neb.—The late Max Wolf bequeathed $150,000 for a home for the aged to be located in Albion. Terms of the will were disclosed by Otto Reich, Jim Wolf and W. B. Watson, executors of the estate.

A trust fund will be created for the benefit of Mrs. Wolf during her lifetime to be followed by several charitable bequests including the home for the aged. Organization and construction will be decided by trustees of the fund.

The home is to be called "The Max and Hattie Wolf Rest Home for the Aged" and must be located in Albion. Under terms of the will, all persons residing in the home must pay fees directly or through the government, assuring continuation of the home.

Persons living in Boone County must be accepted first for residence. Residents of Wheeler County will have priority if vacancies occur after Boone County residents have been provided for. If vacancies still exist, any Nebraskans may be admitted.

Other bequests to take effect at the same time include $5,000 for purchase of equipment at Boone County Community Hospital and $10,000 to be used to establish "The Max and Hattie Wolf Scholarship Fund for Wheeler County, Nebraska, High School."

Hospital Staff Is Moving Into New Building

NORFOLK, Neb.—Staff members of the Norfolk State Hospital are making a "gradual" move into their new quarters—the second largest state-constructed building in Nebraska.

The $1.5 million building is occupied now by the administrative section. Dr. Charles G. Ingham, superintendent, said the occupation of the hospital will be "dictated by how quickly we get outside construction finished, how soon we get all our equipment, and how rapidly we obtain additional qualified personnel."

So far, the medical, business administration, accounting, psychology, clinical records, post office, information and personnel sections have been moved into the new building.

Next week, the pharmacy, recreational and occupational therapy departments, and the patients' library will be moved.

Patients will not be moved until food facilities and psychiatric services are installed.

Normal operation in the new building should begin about June 1, Dr. Ingham stated.

Contestants representing the sons will be Bob Holt, John Beilke, Byron Barnes, Arley Boesen, Fred Karre, Dale Wegner, Monty Kyhn, Jack Tuma, Stanley Johnson and Bob Studnicka. Surplus Water Offered Dry Area Farmers Cost Down This Year

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of the Interior McKay has announced a plan to make surplus federal water available to farmers in the drought threatened tri-state corner of Colorado, Nebraska and Kansas.

The water would come from five Reclamation Bureau reservoirs in the Kansas River District.

Reclamation Commissioner W. A. Dextheimer said farmers who have water rights to natural flows of streams within the bureau's Kansas River district can benefit by purchase of supplemental water.

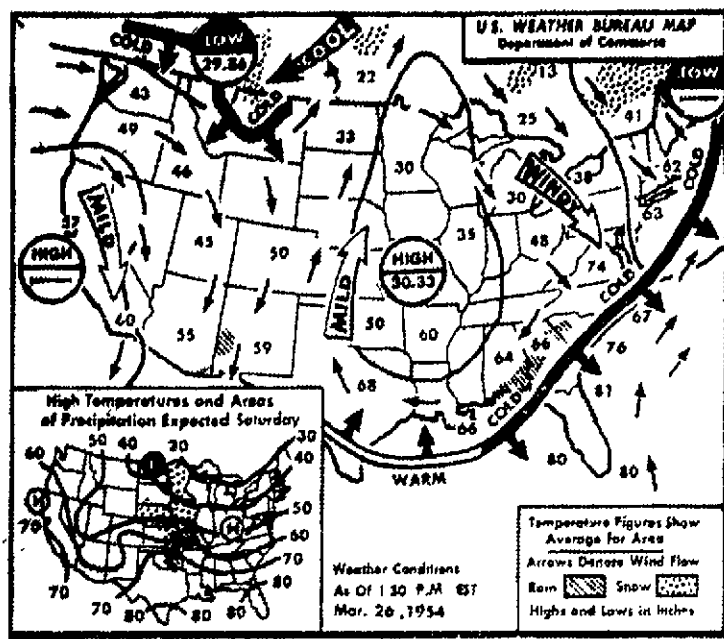

He explained in a statement that farmers qualified to purchase the water would divert it onto their lands or pump it from streams after the water had been released from upstream reservoirs.

Five Reservoirs
The five reservoirs on the Republican River and other tributaries of the Kansas River are: Bonny, on the Republican in Colorado; Swanson Lake, on the Republican in Nebraska; Enders, on Frenchman Creek in Nebraska; Harry Strunk Lake, on Medicine Creek in Nebraska; and Harlan County on the Republican in Nebraska.

He said the supplemental water will cost users $3.50 per acre-foot this year. Under a similar plan last year, he added, 587 acre-feet of surplus water from two reservoirs in the district were sold to farmers at $4.25 an acre-foot.

He expressed belief some water users outside the boundaries of the Frenchman-Cambridge and Nebraska-Boswell Irrigation Districts might make effective use of the surplus water but added that under reclamation law water cannot be delivered to more than 160 irrigable acres in one ownership.

Dextheimer said farmers interested in buying supplemental water should direct inquiries to the Reclamation Bureau's Kansas River projects office, McCook, Neb.

Bruning To Honor H. W. Hinrichs; Businessman For Half A Century

H. W. HINRICHS

Lincoln Star Special

BRUNING, Neb. — This community will turn out Monday night to honor H. W. Hinrichs for his 50 consecutive years as a Bruning business man.

Sponsored by the Commercial Club, a program and social hour will be held at the theater, at which the public will share.

Prior to the program, members of the Commercial Club, business associates and their families will gather for a 6 p.m. dinner to honor Mr. Hinrichs on his long service to the community.

Mr. Hinrichs has served his customers from the same building over the span of 50 years as a hardware dealer here.

Humboldt Boy Seeks Aid In Locating Dad

HUMBOLDT, Neb. (INS) — Eleven-year-old Boy Scout Jon Goodhart of Humboldt is searching for "the best dad in the whole world."

In a letter to the Denver Post, Jon asked the "wonderful people in Colorado" to keep trying to find his father, Leo B. Goodhart, 42.

The elder Goodhart walked away from a Denver hotel Feb. 19, and his rented auto was found two days later in a snow bank in the Clear Creek area. Relatives have offered $1,000 for information leading to his whereabouts.

"No Bad Habits"

Jon wrote: "Won't someone please remember having seen my Dad anywhere in your state or outlying states since Feb. 19? We miss him very much."

The boy described his father as a man with "two bad habits," who taught him always to abide by the golden rule.

He said: "Dad always tried to help other people more than himself. That is why he was chosen 'king of our county fair' in 1952."

Gordon Flood Control Plan Turned Down

WASHINGTON (AP) — A flood control project to protect Gordon, Neb., was rejected Friday by the Board of Army Engineers because it would cost almost as much as the community is worth.

Reversing an Army division engineer who had recommended the project, the board said its cost would be out of proportion to the benefits. Property in the community, the board said, is valued at only 1 1/2 million dollars while the cost of the proposed work would be $1,072,300.

The project would divert Antelope Creek floods around the town.

Betrothal Announced

MISS PAULA WITHEY

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Withey of Omaha this morning announce the engagement of their daughter, Paula, to David Robert Phipps, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Dwight Phipps.

No wedding date is named. Miss Withey will be graduated in June from the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Delta Gamma sorority.

Mr. Phipps, who now is serving as a second lieutenant in the army air force, at Albuquerque, N.M., was graduated last June from the University of Nebraska, and is a member of Phi Kappa Psi fraternity.

Honored Plan YWCA At Banquet Activities

At the annual Founders Day banquet of Delta Gamma sorority, held Friday evening at the Hotel Cornhusker, scholastic and achievement awards were presented to members of the active chapter by Miss Mary Augustine.

Honored for the highest scholarship in the freshman class was Miss Ruth Ann Lucke, and receiving scholastic awards for their classes were Miss Mary Domingo, sophomore, and Miss Mary Maude Bedford, junior. Miss Ruth White received the alumnae award, and honored with the Dinsmore achievement award for the most outstanding pledge was Miss Mary Hall. The achievement award for upperclassmen, the Josephine McCroskey pin, was presented to Miss Lynn Holland.

In charge of special entertainment for the monthly birthday party for patients at Lincoln State Hospital were a group of University of Nebraska students. The group included Miss Sally Gaughan, Miss Rez Ross and Miss Sheila Siren.

Has Friday Ceremony

Tall arrangements of white gladioli, stock and woodwardia, and white candles burning in seven-branched candelabra, appointed the chancel of the First Christian Church, Friday evening, March 26, for the marriage of Miss June Boyd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Boyd, to William Norman, son of Mrs. Hazel Norman of Lincoln, and Forrest Norman of Spokane, Wash. The 7:30 o'clock ceremony was solemnized by Dr. Charles F. Kemp.

Preceding the service, Neil Coffman sang "Because," and "The Lord's Prayer." He was accompanied by Ray Young, organist, who also played the wedding music.

Miss Sylvia Boyd was her sister's maid of honor and the bridesmaids were Miss May Boyd and Miss Sharon Boyd, also sisters of the bride. The attendants' alike ballroom frocks were fashioned of Elizabethan pink eyelet sheer over taffeta. Shrug jackets of the eyelet covered the strapless bodices, and wide dust-ruffles of pink tulle edged the full skirts. They wore caps of matching eyelet and carried bouquets of pink carnations. Also a sister of the bride was the flower girl, Miss Judy Ann Boyd, frocked in pink nylon, and the ringbearer was David Boyd, a cousin of the bride.

Blush pink nylon lace and tulle over taffeta was chosen by the bride for her wedding gown. The heart-shaped decolletage of the lace bodice was covered by a jacket of the lace completed by long, cuffed sleeves and a standing collar, and the lace extended into the waist-length skirt of tulle to form a petal motif. Her pink illusion veil was held by a cap of tulle edged with seed pearls, and she carried a cascade of white roses.

Donald Norman served his brother as best man, and seating the guests were Dale Crook and John O'Boyle.

Following the reception for 100 guests, held in the church parlors, Mr. and Mrs. Norman left for a short trip to Chicago, after which they will reside in Lincoln. For traveling, the bride wore a brown knitted ensemble with matching accessories.

The bridegroom is a veteran of four years service with the Navy.

THERE'S APRIL in the air—and there's more to that than merely the month and the atmosphere—the approach of April also means the approach of homecomers who have been whiling away the winter in other climes.

Just this morning we learned that Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Patz were back home after a five weeks holiday in Palm Beach, Fla.

During their stay in Florida Mr. and Mrs. Patz spent a day with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sidles on their yacht—and also saw Mr. and Mrs. C. W. D. Kinsey, who have been in Florida the past few weeks—and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Rohman. So naturally we gathered some more homecoming data—

WE learned that Mr. and Mrs. Carl Rohman, who left Florida several days ago for a stay in New York City, probably will be home this week-end—The Kinseys plan to leave Florida for home about April 1, and Mr. and Mrs. Sidles will linger in Florida until late April.

THE homeward trek from the West Coast has begun, too—Mr. and Mrs. Richard Rogers, who spent a good share of the winter at Palm Springs, Calif., are back in town—But Mr. and Mrs. Rogers had such a wonderful time with Lincoln people who also were at Palm Springs, that it doubtless seems as though they hadn't been away.

Hear that while some of the Lincoln travelers were sojourning in the desert resort they visited with Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Chenoweth and Mrs. Chenoweth's mother, Mrs. Joseph Grainger, who spent a few days in Palm Springs.

IN THE it's-a-small-world-department—It seems incredible that Mrs. Donald W. Miller who left Lincoln just a week ago last Thursday, and who spent a day or two in San Francisco, and two or three days in Hawaii, now is in Tokyo—Maybe it isn't that the world is so small—but that the speed is so great.

OUR SPRING brides come in for some attention this morning—There is Miss Ruthe Jewett, for instance, whose marriage to John Small of New York will take place on May 1—and Miss Donna Lee Borgaard, who is to marry Thomas J. Tobin in May—

Our bride's book tells us that

LEE MULLICAN

It is small wonder that Lee Mullican's paintings are a mixture of the Oriental, the Southwest Indian art, and the midwest—for Mullican is a product of the midwest. He was born in Chickasha, Okla., and was educated at the University of Oklahoma art school, and the Kansas City Art Institute. But this accounts only for the midwest angle of his work—For a time he lived in the California desert—then Hawaii. After that there was a war and he served in the South Pacific, the Marianas, and Japan. He has spent his post-war years in the southwest and in the San Francisco Bay area—and those are the geographical factors that have played an important role in his work. Mullican uses color, texture and pattern to bring about an indescribable mood and a strong feeling of unity and power. His subjects are nebulous and must be intuitively understood. As a note of purely technical interest, you may like to know that his "Glyph", the oil on canvas in the current exhibit, has been executed with a printer's ink knife.

NFWC To Hear Noted Speakers

MISS CHRISTINE SADLER

When the delegates representing the more than 14,800 members of the Nebraska Federation of Women's Clubs meet in Lincoln for the organization's annual convention, April 7, 8 and 9, they will hear talks by a group of speakers featuring a variety of interests and professional fields.

A delegate to the Democratic National Convention at Chicago in 1952, Mrs. Hodge is serving as a member of the planning committee for the White House traffic safety committee.

The daughter of a Baptist minister and a native Texan, Mrs. Hodge is a graduate of Howard Payne College, from ton bureau, who will address the delegates on the topic, "Thirty Million Club Women Can't Be Wrong."

A former reporter for the Washington Post, Miss Sadler is editor of the McCall's

And on Saturday morning, April 3, Mrs. Ivan Devoe and her daughter, Mrs. Harrison Ward, will honor Miss Jewett when they are hostesses at an 11 o'clock coffee at the home of Mrs. Devoe. Thirteen guests have been invited for the coffee, and a linen shower for the soon-to-be bride.

AND this morning Miss Borgaard is announcing that her marriage to Mr. Tobin will be solemnized at a 10 o'clock ceremony on Saturday morning, May 1, at St. Teresa's Church.

For her maid of honor and only attendant, Miss Borgaard has chosen her twin sister, Miss Dixie Dee Borgaard.

James Tobin of Tekamah will serve his brother as best man, and the ushers will include William Cannon of Mitchell; Bert Linn, Kimball; Philip Hart, Tekamah, and Murray Backhaus; Millard.

Secretaries Hold Party

To raise money for their philanthropic projects, which include an annual scholarship in secretarial training for a high school graduate, members of the Cornhusker Chapter, National Secretaries Association, entertained at a party Friday evening at the YWCA.

Mrs. M. J. McKee of Dallas, Tex., the sorority's alumnae director of region four, will be the guest speaker at the luncheon, and her topic will be "Opportunity Knocks." Mrs. McKee, a graduate of the school of Journalism at Kansas State College, received a master's degree at the University of Wisconsin before entering newspaper and advertising fields. Before joining her husband's advertising agency as vice-president and account executive, Mrs. McKee was advertising manager for Nieman-Marcus. She is a member of Theta Sigma Phi, The New York fashion group, D.A.R.

The general committee in charge of the State Day arrangements is headed by Mrs. Ben Ackert of Elkhorn, chairman and officer of the day, who is assisted in welcoming the guests by Miss Doris Root, Omaha alumnae president, and Miss JoAnn Hagemeister, president of the active chapter. Miss Joyce Dawson will have charge of the guest book and the Omaha alumnae, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Charles Vorhees, have planned the decorations. Mrs. Alfred L. Adams of Omaha is in charge of the tickets, and serving as a publicity committee are Mrs. Robert Page of Omaha, and Miss Lynnette Bush of the active chapter.

Mrs. Edna Zamow, the retiring province director, and Mrs. Catherine Kapfer, the new director, will be introduced.

Attending the State Day activities from out of town, in addition to the group from Omaha, will be Mrs. Phillip Curtis of Bridgeport; Mrs. Robert Burroughs, Cozad; Mrs. Lloyd Ang, Valparaiso; Mrs. Akbert Gay, Fremont; Mrs. Ethel Hall, Geneva, and Miss Mary Jo Sandsted, Beatrice.

No newcomer to Lincoln is Mrs. Lloyd White of Kansas City, Mo., who will entertain and amuse those attending the convention with her popular talk on women and hats. Mrs. White's "Hat Show," which will be presented at the junior banquet the evening of April 8, originated several years ago when she began amusing her family and friends by making fun of her collection of hats. With each hat, Mrs. White assumes a new characterization, each one a satire on her fellow females.

A former professional lecturer and book reviewer, Mrs. White received her college degree in psychology, and with her two children grown, devotes her leisure time to her hat "career."

Other convention speakers will include Governor Robert Crosby and a group of foreign students at the University of Nebraska who will present a panel with Dr. G. W. Rosenlof as moderator.

Delta Zeta State Day

MRS. M. J. MCKEE

Stassen Leaves For London Meet On Red Trade

WASHINGTON (AP)—Foreign aid chief Stassen left by air for London to consult with the British and French on the question of relaxing restrictions on trade with Iron Curtain countries.

The talks, apparently arranged at the insistence of British Prime Minister Churchill, were announced by Stassen's office about four hours before his departure, in a military transport plane.

Churchill called for increased trade with the Soviet bloc more than a month ago. In a Feb. 25 speech to the House of Commons he said relaxing trade controls would be beneficial to the free Western world.

Last Tuesday, while East-West trade was being debated in Commons, reporters in Washington sought the views of U.S. Secretary of State Dulles. His reply was somewhat at odds with Churchill's statement although leaving room for compromise.

Dulles said the United States favors a greater measure of restriction on trade with the Communists than seems to be desired by her principal allies.

But he said a proper policy could be worked out among the allies.

The Foreign Operations Administration (FOA) said Stassen will confer in London until next Wednesday with a British delegation headed by Lord Redding, undersecretary for foreign affairs, and a French delegation, led by Maurice Schumann, secretary of state.

The announcement said they will "exchange views on policy concerning trade with the Soviet Union and the Soviet satellites in Eastern Europe."

Britain has been pressing for some time for a relaxation of the list of non-strategic materials which the Allies have agreed to bar from Soviet bloc trade. This list is constantly examined by working committees which meet practically every day in Paris.

France has had little to say recently about this trade. Last year Britain imported 207 million dollars worth of goods from the Soviet-European bloc, while selling it 75 million dollars worth. France, meanwhile, bought 46 million dollars worth of goods from the Communists and sold them 51 million dollars worth.

C. M. Sutherland Files For Unicam

Charles M. Sutherland, after reading a Supreme Court opinion in which his efforts to have the City Auditorium constructed, on the Rogers tract at 33rd and "O" streets, were nullified, filed as a candidate for the Legislature in the 20th District.

Robert Perry, attorney, and Wendell Cobleigh, appliance dealer, had filed earlier for the seat of Sen. Robert Mr. Sutherland McNeil who has announced that he will not again be a candidate.

Sutherland is a motor carrier traffic rate consultant and was superintendent of schools at Genoa, Howells and Creighton, before coming to Lincoln in 1919. He was for a time secretary of a petroleum dealers association.

He was an unsuccessful candidate for the Legislature in 1938. He lives at 3343 Woods.

Reds Ignore Appeal For Cease-Fire

... In Indo-China

HANOI, Indo-China (AP)—The French high command said it had appealed in vain to the Vietminh for a brief cease-fire to permit planes to use the air strip at Dien Bien Phu for evacuation of the wounded.

Despite repeated pleas, the high command added, the Communist-led rebels continued shelling the strip. The French said that they were able to remove some of their wounded by helicopters and transport planes which managed to land and take off despite the shelling.

But the French had hoped the rebels would receive orders from their high command to end the shelling briefly and permit removal of wounded who cannot receive adequate treatment in the field surgery headquarters at the center of the fortress. Vietminh guns were also hammering this aid station.

Air attacks were maintained on rebel positions in the hills around Dien Bien Phu, but there were mounting indications the struggle for the fortress might be long and bitter.

Negotiations With West Preference Customers Okayed

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of the Interior McKay announced Friday the Reclamation Bureau has been authorized to negotiate power sales contracts with preference customers in the western division of the Missouri River basin for their 1956 needs.

A. Dexheimer said negotiations will be conducted by regional reclamation offices. He said the basis for them "will avoid, in so far as it is possible, the imposition of minimum annual capacity charges due to over charging" by allowing them to cover estimated needs for the next two years.

He said about 14,000 kilowatts of federal power is available for sale in the area.

3 Gunmen Take $36,000 From Florida Factory

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—Three gunmen with stocking masks held up the office of a Tampa cigar factory and took an estimated $36,000 in payroll funds.

The payroll was being made up for the 1,000 employees of the Corral-Wodiska Co.

The robbers apparently slipped into the building through a rear door.

Kearney College Wins NCC Indoor Meet Easily

Chiefs Take Lazy Day; Squad Cut Next Week

By NORRIS ANDERSON
Star Sports Staff Member

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex.—To be realistic about the matter, the Lincoln Chiefs were completely at sea Friday.

Given a day of leisure as a reward for a hard week of work, the Chiefs chartered a boat and, as a group, went fishing in the Gulf of Mexico.

At this writing, the Chiefs' craft was still on the high seas, so the fish stories must wait for a later telling. An early SOS had, however, relayed the word that Anderson Bush has snagged a 21-pound drum.

Now that a week of hard conditioning has been completed, Manager Whitley Wietelmann will begin the process of trimming his 27-man squad down to the Western League maximum of 21 men.

Corpus Christi, a sister affiliate of the Milwaukee chain, is awaiting the men that Wietelmann chops off.

Probably the first department to be trimmed will be the pitchers. Wietelmann has 14 mounders in camp, including five holdovers from 1953: Norm Brown, Bob Matheson, Vance Carlson, Andy Bush and Roger Wright.

At least four pitchers must be severed, so the early exhibition games will be used to decide who is to stay.

Three newcomers will be used on the mound in each of the two games with Corpus Christi over the week end. Going in the opener tonight will be right-hander Walt James and left-handers George Dries and Bob Bandler.

Although untried in actual game competition, Dries and right-hander Charles Griffith were the top new hurlers.

Dries, who stands 6-4 and weighs 215 pounds, won all of the Sally league (Class A) honors in 1952 with a 14-6 record and a 1.93 earned run average.

"Dries has a nice easy motion and good control," says Wietelmann.

Griffith, 6-2 and 195 pounds, has a reputation for control and endurance. He had a 16-14 mark with the last-place Gastonia, N. C., team in the Tri-State (Class B) league in 1953 and was a unanimous choice for the all-star team.

Wietelmann says that Griffith's curve is one of the best in camp.

Bandler, 5-9 and 160, is a 20-year-old rookie. James, 200-pound Negro, had a 6-5 mark in the California state league (Class C) in 1953.

One infielder will probably be cut as well as an outfielder.

The outfield seems pretty well set with Orinthal Anderson in right, Gordon Bragg in center and Tom Neill and Red McQuillen dividing duty in left. That would mean James (Zippety) Zapp will be optioned.

Tabbing the infielders who will stay is a harder task. Including Wietelmann, who is available for utility, the Chiefs have seven infielders including holdovers Freddy Hancock, Dusty Rhodes, and Moose Womack and newcomers Eugene Castiglione, Larry Neal and Jim Fairchild.

One of the early possibilities has been Hancock at third, Neal at shortstop, Castiglione at second and Womack at first. Rhodes has been alternating at third and Fairchild at shortstop.

Womack is the only first baseman in camp, so he's had exclusive rights. The Moose will have to improve his 228 batting average of 1953, however, if he's to stay in Wietelmann's plans.

The catching department includes only two members in Ralph Kennedy and Frank Calo, both experienced receivers.

Wietelmann is anxious to see how they measure up in the exhibition games.

"This next week is going to tell a lot," commented Whitley.

Wardrop Sets New Record In Swim Test

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (U.P.)—Michigan's Jack Wardrop pulled the upset of the meet Friday when he beat Ford Konno of Ohio State by inches in the 220 yard free style final of the NCAA Championships and set new intercollegiate and NCAA records of 2:05 flat. It bettered the world mark unofficially.

Wardrop's twin brother, Bert, plunged into the pool to greet the giant-killer. Konno, an Olympic champion, had been heavily favored. His time was 2:05.3.

Wardrop clipped five-tenths of a second off the intercollegiate and NCAA records held by John Marshall of Yale and set in March 1951 at Austin, Tex. Unofficially, it broke the world record of the same time which Marshall has held since 1950.

Yoshi Oyakawa, Olympic member of Konno beat our Larry Heim of Stanford to retain his 200-yard backstroke title in 2:09.8. He won by inches.

Dick Cleveland, another Buckeye, picked up a seven-point first when he won the 50-yard free style in 0:22.3, two-tenths shy of the American record which he matched last month.

Dave Hawkins, intercollegiate champion of Harvard, took the 200-yard breaststroke away from Michigan's Bumpy Jones, although Jones posted a faster time.

Hawkins was clocked in 2:15.4 while Jones' time was 2:15.2. The judge, ruling Hawkins the winner, took precedence over the stop-watch.

Michigan's quartet of Tom Benner, Ron Gora, Don Hill and Bumpy Jones won the 400-yard free style relay in 3:26.1. Ohio State was second and Yale third.

Fletcher Gilders of the Buckeyes upset his favored teammates, Jerry Harrison and Morely Shapiro, to take the low board diving test with 441.10 points. Ken Welch of Yale finished second and Shapiro third.

Husker Gymnasts Win Home Finale

Nebraska's gymnastics team won its last home meet of the season Friday, beating Illinois Navy Pier 69-26 and winning all but one of the six events.

Bruce Riley and Tom Kidd led the Huskers, who compete in the Midwest AAU meet at Beatrice today. The meet starts at 2 p.m. Friday results:

Derby Favorite Has Bruised Foot

LEXINGTON, Ky. (U.P.)—The new favorite for the Kentucky Derby, Porthouse, has suffered a bruise on his foot but trainer Charles Whittingham said he expects it to cause little or no delay in the colt's training.

The bruise is on the inside quarter of the right forefoot.

"There is nothing serious about it," said the trainer. "To make certain that the foot was all right, we had it X-rayed this morning."

"The X-rays revealed the foot is in perfect condition."

Grid Game Tops Sport Attractions

By BILL FITZGERALD
Star Sports Staff Member

Nebraskans this morning were greeted by a weather prediction of 55 degree temperature and mild winds for the All Sports Day athletic activity which is expected to attract a fair crowd to the University of Nebraska campus for this annual spring sports show.

Greatest interest is centered on the intrasquad football game in Memorial Stadium at 2 p.m. when the Huskers of next fall fight each other in the spring training closer.

For the first time in five years Nebraska fans will miss the football players who composed the Oldtimers squad which battled the varsity in interesting and usually tight games.

Coach Bill Glassford has split the Huskers into two squads, the Reds and the Whites.

The first string is on the Red squad, and the second stringers are running with the Whites. Both squads carry experienced players, but the sophomores who are so important to the success of the Huskers of 1954 may be the largest attraction to the fans.

One of the most promising baseball squads ever collected and developed by Coach Tony Sharpe will clash in an intrasquad game at 10 a.m. on the campus diamond.

Left hander Fran Hoefmeier and portlander Ray Novak, two pitchers who may carry the load for the Cornhuskers this spring, will start on the mound.

Coach Harry Good and his 1954-55 basketball squad will meet the Alumni in the Coliseum at 4 p.m.

On the Alumni squad are many of the players who carried Good and the University to two conference championships in 1949 and 1950.

They will work with players of the last Husker varsity and those of other years. Good goes with the returning members of the 1954 squad and the present talented freshmen squad.

Palmer Takes Early Lead In Aza'ea Open

WILMINGTON, N.C. (U.P.)—Arnold Palmer of Latrobe, Pa., who recently returned to Wake Forest College after a Coast Guard hitch, whipped a par by seven strokes Friday to take a one-stroke lead in the opening round of the $10,000 Aza'ea Open Golf Tournament.

The 24-year-old Palmer opened with four birdies as he turned in a 32-32—65 card over the 6,652-yard Cape Fear Country Club course to lead Jimmy Turnesa, former PGA champion from Briarcliff, N.Y., by one stroke. Turnesa carded a steady 34-32—66 with six birdies and a dozen pars.

Tied with 67, two strokes behind Palmer, were his playing companions, professionals Bob Toski, the 127-pounder from Livingston, N.J., and Ted Kroil of New Hartford, N.Y.; Jackie Burke, Kiamesha Lake, N.Y., and Marty Furgol, Lemont, Ill.

Tied for seventh place at 68 were Mike Souchak, Mamaroneck, N.Y.; Lloyd Mangrum, Niles, Ill., former winner here; Fred Hawkins, El Paso, Tex., and Paul McGuire, Kansas City, Mo.

Souchak, former Duke University football player, had four birdies, an eagle and two bogies going out to turn in 32, but coming back could do no better than par. Faulty chipping and a three-put green hurt his round. Palmer, who was 1950 Southern Intercollegiate champion, twice led National Intercollegiate qualifiers with medal winning 36-hole performances in 1949 and 1950 before going into service. Although he played well in all departments his putter was his best friend.

Kitzelman Semifinalist In NCAA

From Press Dispatches

NORMAN, Okla.—The University of Nebraska's Max Kitzelman Friday night gained a spot in the semifinals in the heavyweight class of the NCAA wrestling meet by pinning Harold Hunter, Pittsburgh, in 5:07 in the quarterfinals.

Kitzelman drew a bye for the first round. Semifinals and finals are slated for Saturday afternoon and night.

Other heavyweight semifinalists are Robert Konovsky, Wisconsin, who defeated Bill Hid, Middle Tennessee State, 6-0, Ken Ellis, Kansas State, 5-4 decision winner over Jack Eleena, UCLA, and Gene Nick, Oklahoma A&M, who pinned Larry Fowler, Michigan State, in 7:00.

Three defending champions and two 1952 titleholders grappled their way through the quarterfinals before 2,500 fans.

The Oklahoma Aggies stood out as giants, placing six men in the semifinals in what appears to be a romp for their 17th collegiate crown.

Ten schools followed the Aggies, each placing just two men in the semifinals, among them Penn State which appears certain to lose its 1953 team title.

The first year that the championship left the Midlands occurred with Penn State's victory last year, but their six man team was unable to hold up in Friday's rough competition.

Lightning-fast Hugh Peery of Pittsburgh, who is seeking his third straight 115-pound NCAA crown, scored his second fall of the opening rounds by pinning Robert David of Auburn in four minutes flat. It was Peery's 46th consecutive victory of his college mat career.

David, a Southeastern Conference champion at 123 pounds, had a record of eight victories and no defeats this season.

Spotlight On Wes Santee In Indoor Finale

CHICAGO (U.P.)—The spotlight centers on Miller Wes Santee of Kansas in the Chicago Daily News Relays, closing major meet of the indoor track season, at the Chicago Stadium tonight.

A capacity crowd of 17,000 hopes to see Santee, running the famed Banker's Mile, shatter the recognized 11-lap board track record of 4:05.3. The mark was set by G.H. Dods in Madison Square Garden in 1948.

Other top performers include Fred Wilt and Horace Ashenfelter, FBI men dueling in the two-mile; Harrison Dillard, seeking his eighth straight high hurdles title; middle distance star Mal Whitfield; high jumper Ken Weisner, and pole vaulter Bob Kitzelman.

Santee, who romped a 4:04.9 mile on an eight-lap dirt track at Michigan State last month, is rated a fine prospect to run the storied four-minute mile. His best time is 4:02.4 at Compton, Calif., last June.

To endanger Dods' 11-lap board record, Santee also must crack the Chicago Stadium mark of 4:06.4 by Dods in 1944.

Santee's rivals include defending champion Len Truex, Warren Dretzel, Lawton Lamb and Lowell Zellers.

In the two-mile event, Ashenfelter is defending champion, winning last year when Wilt was absent. Ashenfelter last week scored his only victory over Wilt in 17 times.

Wesleyan Athletes Honored At Annual All-Sports Banquet

The Wesleyan lettermen, 70 in all, were feted by the Yellers of the Brown, Wesleyan girls pen group, at the annual all-sports banquet at Cotner Terrace, Friday night.

As a feature of the program, Dr. John Calvert, Pierce physics professor, who starred in basketball and track and graduated in 1925, and Ralph Bowman, '42, successful Nebraska high school mentor now located at Seward, were presented as 1954 Honor Athletes by Coach Roy Robertson.

Featured speaker for the evening was Dr. Frank Court who said: "Oliver Wendell Holmes once said, 'Life is a romance.' It is the painting of a picture, not the adding of a sum, but you have to make the romance and it depends upon how much fire is in you."

So we make the romance of life by the things we come to love, by how well we overcome the spirit that we bring to life and the things we live for. If we miss life's romance, the fault is always ours."

Vincent Colon, Wesleyan admissions counselor, acted as master of ceremonies, introducing also Pep Club President Carolyn Rudd who offered a toast to the lettermen, and W Club President Jim Lightbody who responded.

Wesleyan lettermen turned tables on their coaches and the football squad members presented Coach Roy Robertson and Earl Johnson with a gift and the basketball team honored Coach Coach Irv Peterson in the same manner.

Mrs. Warren Urbom presented five cheerleaders—Lous Haddix, Central City, Phyllis Edgar, Norfolk; Jackie James, York; Beverly Munson, Blair, and Marlys Nelson, Clay Center, for awards.

Also as guests were representatives of the press and radio who have followed the Wesleyan athletic program during the past year.

Yanks' Extra-Base Hit Surge Defeats Brooklyn

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—The New York Yankees unleashed an extra-base surge which smothered their World Series rivals, the Brooklyn Dodgers, 8-4, Friday.

The Bombers exploded three homers, two doubles and two triples in an assault on Don Newcombe and Joe Black as a crowd of 17,022, largest of the spring in this city, looked on.

The victory was the second for the world champions in five meetings between the clubs. They meet three times more in Brooklyn and New York early next month.

Gil McDougald, Yogi Berra and Gene Woodling hit for the circuit. Joe Collins and Ed Robinson pounded three-baggers and Berra and Bob Cerv smote doubles.

Allie Reynolds, star Yankee righthander whose labor will be relief this year, hurled the final innings. He allowed only two singles and whiffed six. The lone run off him was unearned.

Jim McDonald started for New York and fell behind, 3-0, by time the Dodgers finished batting in the fourth. He was cuffed for four hits and two runs in the second inning and gave up the other score in the fourth when Newcombe hit a homer.

Palehorse Open Date

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—The Chicago White Sox had an open date on the exhibition schedule Friday, but Manager Paul Richards drove his charges through a drill on fundamentals.

The Sox meet the Philadelphia Phils at Clearwater today. Richards disclosed he plans to carry a staff of 12 pitchers into the regular season, lopping off two to meet the May 15 limit of 25 players.

Four pitching spots are open, Richards considering Billy Pierce, Virgil Trucks, Sandy Consuegra, Harry Dorish, Mike Fornieles and Bob Keegan as his regulars.

Trucks will get the starting call against the Phils.

Phils Stop Tigers

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP)—Veteran Jim Konstanty and rookie Paul Jensen combined to stop the Detroit Tigers with five singles Friday and give the Philadelphia Phillies an easy 6-2 victory.

Konstanty, the National League's most valuable player in 1950, worked the first six innings, allowing only four singles. Jensen yielded only one.

Fiore, Scorticini In Welter Scrap

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—Up-and-coming Carmine Fiore, hoping to move closer to a crack at the welterweight championship, meets active Italo Scorticini of Italy here tonight in a nationally televised 10-rounder.

Fiore, a hard punching, rush-in type fighter from Brooklyn, hasn't lost a fight since he was beaten by Carmen Basilio, the number one contender for the welterweight title, here last April.

Carmine has improved rapidly and desperately wants a chance to take on Basilio again. He says he's sure he can beat him—and that, if he does, it would make him the logical welter contender.

A lot hinges on Kid Gavilan's battle for the middleweight crown with Carl (Bobo) Olson next week. If Gavilan wins, he will surrender his welterweight laurels and leave the field wide open.

Scorticini, well-liked by the television viewers who will see the fight (ABC, 8 p.m., CST) drew with Basilio in Carmine's latest fight in Miami.

hit through the final three innings as the Phils won their seventh Grapefruit game against 13 setbacks.

A pair of home run balls led to the downfall of Tiger lefty Billy Hoelt, who served up 24 Gophers during the American League season last year. Rookie Stan Jok belted a solo homer off Hoelt in the fourth and shortstop Granny Hamner followed with a two-run homer in the fifth. It was Detroit's 12th loss in 18 games.

Red Sox Beaten 10-1

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP)—Southpaw Bill Henry and right hander Hal "Skinny" Brown proved soft pickings for Washington Friday as the Senators romped to a 10 to 1 victory over the Boston Red Sox.

Boston's Bill Goodman was taken to Dr. Michael Di Cosola for X-rays, which proved negative after he had been hit on the left elbow by Frank "Spers" Shea in the third inning. Goodman suffered only a bruise.

Washington jumped on Henry for six runs in the third inning with Tony Roig's bases loaded triple the big blow. The Senators added another in the fourth on Mickey Vernon's second of three hits and then punched out three more runs off Brown in the seventh and eighth innings.

Cubs Are Idle

MESA, Ariz. (AP)—The Chicago Cubs were idle Friday, preparing to launch a 13-game homeward journey after closing their third spring training camp here.

Twelve of the remaining games, starting Saturday at Albuquerque, will be with the Baltimore Orioles. The other will be with the White Sox in Memphis on April 9.

Bubba Church and Bob Zick will be the Cub pitchers against the Orioles today.

Bell Wins For Reds

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—Outfielder Gus Bell, Cincinnati's 300 slugger, hit an eighth inning two-run homer to give the Reds a 3-2 win over the St. Louis Cardinals Friday.

Good pitching and good fielding marked the exhibition game. Bell's big blow was off Memo Luna, the $100,000 Mexican who compiled a 22-10 record for San Diego last season. Rudy Minarcin, former Buffalo pitcher, got credit for the win although the Cards scored their runs off him in the top of the eighth. Rookie Wally Moon singled in the two Cardinal tallies.

The Cardinals threatened to come back in the ninth but a couple of fine catches by Johnny Temple and Ted Kluszewski stopped Ray Jablonski, who doubled at the start of the frame.

The A's just about tore the Grapefruit League apart until this week. But they've lost their last four games and Joost decided on a holiday.

"I don't know what has gotten into us," Joost said. "But I hope we've worked it out of our system."

INDIANS DROP FIVE, Start Trip Home
OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—The Cleveland Indians cut Utility infielder Owen Friend and four rookies from their roster Friday as they began a 16-game swing eastward with the New York Giants.

With the break-up of the Tucson, Ariz., training camp, Friend was sent to Daytona Beach for further practice and reassignment, along with Pitchers Marion Murszewski, a lefty, and Howard Rodemeyer, a righthander. Infielder Bob Prentice, and Outfielder Gale Wade.

The Indians now have 35 players on their roster and are carrying two others not yet signed. Infielder Rudy Regalado, who hit two homers and two singles in Thursday's 6-3 victory over the Chicago Cubs in Tucson; and veteran Hal Newhouse, who hopes to get another season out of a left arm that went lame after winning 200 games for the Detroit Tigers.

Friend says he wants to go to Indianapolis, the Tribe's American Association farm club, try out for shortstop and "show I can hit."

'Buy A Yankee To Beat Brooklyn'

Stanky Seeks Better Record With Vic

By JACK HAND

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—"Buy a Yankee to beat Brooklyn." That's the World Series-born theory behind the purchase of Vic Raschi by the St. Louis Cardinals who didn't beat Brooklyn once all last season at Ebbets Field.

If the Cards had reversed their sad 0-11 record at Brooklyn, they could have closed the 22-game gap separating them from the Dodgers. Instead of a third-place tie with the Phillies, they might have won the pennant.

Manager Eddie Stanky, of course, doesn't expect Raschi to perform such a miracle all by himself. Still, the ex-Yankee righthander has an interesting Series record. He is 3-2 against the Dodgers in three world series but the two defeats were 1-0 to Preacher Roe in 1949 and 3-2 to Carl Erskine's 14-strikeout job last fall.

Stanky, a fiery pepper pot on the field. His words to the press the field, is a different man off the field. He is carefully weighed for his effect on his players. Everything he says is double checked to see how it would look in print.

For instance: Do you think Brooklyn will win again? "You always respect a champion."

Is your club better? "With the additions we have made, through purchases and help from our farm system, we don't anticipate finishing 22 games back again, barring injuries, unless we should go all the way."

Who's going to play shortstop? "Solly Hemus and Alex Grammas are battling for shortstop. Whoever doesn't make it will stay with this ball club."

And first base? "I won't make up my mind until the season opens who is on first base and how long."

Shortstop and first base are the big stories in the Cards' camp this spring for the wealthy brewery owners dished up about $200,000 cash to strengthen the two positions during the winter.

Grammas, the new shortstop, cost about $100,000 from the Cincinnati organization. A .307 hitter at Kansas City last season when he hit only two homers, Grammas supposedly is a slicker fielder than Hemus who hit 14 homers and batted .279 last season. A shoulder injury handicapped Grammas early but he has been getting his chance in recent games. Everybody who saw him last year raves about him but it remains to be seen whether he can hit big league pitching.

The $100,000 first baseman is Tom Alston, a 6-foot-5 Negro with a .297 average, 23 homers and 101 runs batted in at San Diego last year in 180 games. He can field rings around Steve Bilko, the .251 hitting 1953 regular, but once again comes the question of hitting. Alston is a powerfully built fellow who swings for the fences but also strikes out frequently. Bilko, of course, does pretty good in that department too.

Ray Jablonski, who hit 21 homers and drove in 112 runs with a .268 average in his rookie year, has Stanky's nod as the third baseman. Many think Hemus will be on the job by mid season. Red Schoendienst, of course, is the second baseman. He just missed the batting title last year, finishing two points behind Brooklyn's Carl Furillo at .342.

Stan Musial, driving for a seventh batting crown, is the left fielder with Rip Repulski in center and old dependable Enos Slaughter, 38, in right. Wally Moon, a young lefthanded hitter with a .307 report card at Rochester, is the man of the future in the Card outfield. Peanut Lowrey and Joe Frazier will be kept for pinch hitting chores.

Del Rice, Sal Yvars and either Dick Rand or Bill Sarni will do the catching.

Raschi's 13-6 record last season actually won't do much more than make up for the loss of Vinegar Bend Mizell (13-11) now in the Army. Raschi, Gerry Staley (18-9) and Harvey Had-dix (20-9) the certain starters. Tom Poholsky, back from the Army, Joe Presko (6-13) and Stu Miller (7-8) probably will be the other starters. Steve Yuhas, the 1952 relief ace who had arm trouble last season, has been slow coming around. Al Brazle (6-7) will be in the bullpen.

Supreme Court Rules City Must Build Auditorium At 15th, N

Minority Opinion Says Election Should Have Been Allowed

By ARCH DONOVAN
Star Staff Writer

The State Supreme Court by a 5 to 2 decision directed the Lancaster County District Court to enjoin the City of Lincoln et al., from submitting to the voters proposals to repeal charter amendments relating to construction of a city auditorium.

The court further directed that the city proceed with reasonable promptness in construction of the building as authorized and directed by existing charter amendments on the site (15th and N streets) which has been acquired for that purpose.

Opponents of building at that site in downtown Lincoln sought to hold another election on the proposal to build at a less centralized location. They submitted petitions calling for such an election to the city council.

Myron D. Noble et al., brought an action in the District Court asking that the city be enjoined from holding an election and an injunction be granted requiring construction on the acquired site. The District Court dismissed the case and appeal was taken.

The court gave as a rule that "where by amendment to a home rule charter bonds for the project have been voted and directions given to the city council to acquire a site and to construct the project thereon without a further vote of the people and an election thereafter the purpose whereof is to select a site the effect of which would be to defeat the prompt and successful completion of the project as directed by the previous vote of the people may be enjoined."

Tax levies have been made for each of the years 1940 to and including 1952 under the auditorium charter amendment. Total collected at the time of the suit was $958,209 and $358,938 had been expended on the downtown site.

The court pointed out that the city substantially admitted "they had proceeded in an orderly and objective manner toward the construction of an auditorium at the site procured for that purpose."

Meet Star Carrier Bruce Cramer

Bruce Cramer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Emory C. Cramer, carries the morning Lincoln Star in Polk, Nebraska. He is in the fifth grade at the Polk Public School.

Arithmetic is Bruce's favorite subject in school. Although math is generally fairly easy for him, Bruce believes the collection procedures on his route have helped him greatly.

During the school term, Bruce concentrates on basketball for recreational activities. When summer comes, he spends a great deal of time hiking and fishing along the Platte River.

Bruce is very businesslike when it comes to managing his route affairs. His customers enjoy prompt, on the porch service every morning. He has a savings account and a checking account started in the local bank and is currently investing in savings bonds.

While the selling, collecting, and delivering procedures on his Lincoln Star route are giving him valuable business training experience, he is also building excellent habits of efficiency, honesty, courtesy, and dependability that will always be of benefit to him.

Brooks Disclaims Rumor He'll Run For Governorship

Ralph G. Brooks, superintendent of schools at McCook, has disclaimed reports that he would be a Democratic candidate for governor.

"I am too completely occupied at this time with McCook's expanding educational program to give thought to any personal part in the governorship campaign," he said.
